Nothing. No one was, is, or ever will be saved by common grace. Only special grace can save a soul! True, no one can be saved by common grace alone. But neither can anyone be saved by special grace alone. No one was ever saved by common grace alone, but, we argue, no one was, is or ever will be saved without it. Yes, the Spirit gives birth to spirit, but a person in Common Grace is a theological concept, primarily in Reformed and Calvinistic circles, referring to God's common patience or forbearance with sinful man ... the non-saving sustaining grace of God that is common to all humankind. It is "common" because its benefits are experienced by, or intended for, the whole human race without distinction between one person and another. It is "grace" because it is undeserved and sovereignly bestowed by God. In this sense, it is distinguished from the ...
